

Merritt College

Fundamentals of Ornithology/ Birding in the Bay Area

Introduction to the anatomy, behavior, and ecology of birds, with emphasis on bird plumages, reproduction, songs/calls, and migration. Four all-day field trips & three classroom lectures/slide shows, along with well-known guest speakers.

Register now for this 11/5 – 12/12/09 course by visiting www.merritt.edu and finding: BIOL 80C (Code 44640)/ENVST80C (Code 44639)
Classroom: 11/5, 11/12, 11/19/09, 7-9:50 PM;
Field Trips: 11/21, 11/22, 12/5, 12/12/09 9 AM – 4:50 PM

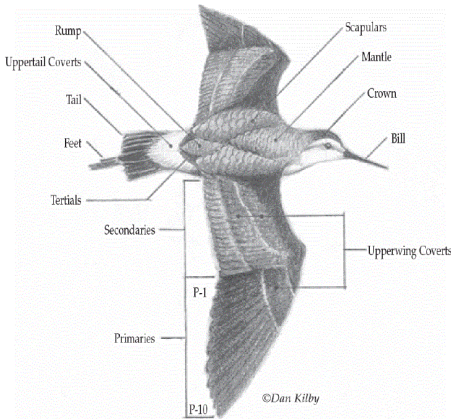

Visit the best birding spots in the Bay Area while enjoying interesting lectures/slide shows/guest speakers

For more info. contact:
Daniel Edelstein
edelstein@earthlink.net
See:

<http://www.warblerwatch.com>

(Note Daniel has 25+ years of birding and teaching experience.)

Note: You can choose to take the class for either .5, 1.0, 1.5 or 2.0 credits. BIOL 80C = section 44640; ENVST 80C = section 44639

